

The Marlboro logo is centered at the top of the image. It consists of the word "marlboro" in a white, stylized, sans-serif font, enclosed within a white rectangular border. The background of the entire image is a textured, greyish-blue wall with a mottled, stone-like appearance. In the foreground, on the left, is a large potted plant with broad, green, glossy leaves. To the right of the plant is a dark brown wooden side table with a flat top and three arched cutouts in its legs. On the table, there are two decorative vases: a short, wide, gold-colored cylindrical vase on the left and a taller, white ceramic vase with a wide, shallow bowl-like top on the right. The floor at the bottom of the image appears to be made of dark, weathered wooden planks.

HIGHLIGHTS OF ECLECTIC

1.

"Good design is simple—once you understand why it can sometimes be so difficult," says Felix Diener, perfectly capturing the balance between boundless creativity and its transformation into a practical product.

2.

Felix Diener believes, "The greatest luxury is having time to experiment." Equally luxurious are the results of his carefully crafted and expertly executed experiments—wallpapers unlike anything seen before.

3.

The glass beads, embedded with glitter particles in their fixation, appear like liquid light.

4.

A moiré pattern displays the typical water wave texture usually found on pure silk. The wallpaper also evokes the elegance of this fine fabric.
